Over Sindbad for this introduction

Hi, I'm Sindbad Dwomoh and I am the new Lead Data Analyst for the EQUIP team. "Where have you come from?" I hear you ask. Good question! My previous organisation was Moorfields Eye Hospital Foundation Trust and prior to that, I worked at West London CCG.

I was a Data Analyst at both organisations while also taking on some project management responsibility involving digital initiatives within GP Practices while at West London CCG.

"Tell us three interesting facts your yourself!" I hear someone bellowing from the back row.

Well, I was previously a qualified biomedical scientist before making the sharp turn into data analytics.

Secondly, my entire immediate family has worked/still works for the NHS and thirdly, I was born in Germany in a city called Monchengladbach before moving to London in 2001. Can I still speak the language? I wish but that's a talk for another day.

"All right...wrap it up then, sailor man". Charming.

All in all, I am delighted and very much enthused over the work done within this organisation and I hope I can contribute to helping us realise our vision and improving patient and staff experience.
